

Sensile Medical is Growing: Moving to New Offices in the USEGO Complex in Olten

Haegendorf, Switzerland, January 24, 2017 – With a rapidly expanding business, Sensile Medical will be moving this summer to the USEGO Complex in Olten. With several new large projects now underway, the dynamic Medtech company from Haegendorf needs more space. Growth is expected to continue as the company’s success is becoming more widely recognized – as evidenced by the recent 2015 Swiss Technology Award in the category “Innovation Leader” for the development and production of novel micro-pumps for highly accurate dosing and delivery of injectable drugs.

“Sensile Medical is Growing: By the end of 2017, the company will double in size to between 120 and 150 employees. With several major new projects from top tier pharmaceutical and biotech companies, the need for expanded, modern offices and laboratories for all our departments is becoming very apparent”, according to the company’s CEO, Derek Brandt. The current facilities in Haegendorf are limited and further expansion is not possible, prompting the move. “The historic USEGO complex, thoroughly modernized, offers plenty of room for our current needs and the anticipated growth in the years ahead. Situated in Olten, a few kilometers down the road from Haegendorf, the new location is easy to reach by car or mass transit. The leisure zone along the river Duennern even offers employees an attractive opportunity for fresh air”, according to Derek Brandt. “We are continually looking for new employees in the areas of Engineering, Electronics, Software Development and Microsystems Technology. In addition to an attractive work environment and cutting edge Medtech products, we can now offer state of the art offices.”

Urs Blaser from the Olten Region Office for Economic Development: “I’m very glad that we’ve been able to keep a fast-growing Medtech company in our Region. This will enhance our expertise in a highly interesting Life Science field. Sensile Medical is also an ideal partner to establish a high tech presence in our historic USEGO complex.
